Western Maine Firemen Meet at North Fryeburg

The April meeting of the WMFA was held at the Redmen's Hall in North Fryeburg on April 10.

Membership is increasing with each meeting and this meeting showed an attendance of 165 members present and 22 towns represented.

After a short business meeting, during which our newly printed by-laws were passed out, the meeting was turned over to Don Buzzell for speakers and entertainment.

The first speaker was Joseph Pike of North Bridgton, supervisor of Pine Blister Rust for this area.

Maine Forest Commissioner Al Nutting spoke to us next about the new program of expansion for the coming year.

We saw a colored moving picture next, entitled "Then It Happened," showing the fire disaster of 1947.

A demonstration with miniature houses and fire apparatus, was put on by Chief Albie Payson of the Camden, Maine, Fire Department. The hose couplings, Y's, and de-luge guns were made from oil burner fittings. The demonstration "saved" a house in a set-up village of North Fryeburg.

The May 5 meeting of the WMFA will be held at North Waterford, Maine. A supper will be served from 6:00 to 8:00 p. m. at the church for $50, and the meeting will be held in the Odd Fellows Hall.

The WMFA has been invited to Hiram, Maine, for its June meeting, which will be on the second Monday, as usual, in the K. of P. Hall at East Hiram.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

Happenings That Affect the Future of Every Individual—National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare

In an article on the Secretary of State and his diplomatic policies, U. S. News & World Report said, "Mr. Acheson is a highly-regarded lawyer, a careful diplomat and a poor politician. . . . Honestly, to Mr. Acheson, is the only policy. Evidence of a word violated or an agreement ignored is a danger sign to him. . . . Principles rank just as high with him. To the Secretary, the troubles between the U. S. and Russia are matters of principle—of good vs. evil."

Not all of Mr. Acheson's defenders and detractors and there are many of each will agree with this but it is probably as fair a judgment as can now be reached. And it is certainly in consonance with the speeches the Secretary has been making in an effort to acquaint the public with the reasons for his international strategy. What is perhaps the most important of the speeches was made in mid-March at the University of California, in connection with the Conference on International Cooperation for World Economic Development.

In this talk, the Secretary dealt in both general and specific terms with the major tensions that now exist between the United States and the Soviet Union—the tensions which threaten the peace and possibly the very life of the world. He said that there can be no moral compromise with International Communism, and added, "It does not follow from this that the two systems, theirs and ours, cannot exist concurrently in this world. Good and evil can and do exist concurrently in the whole great realm of human life. But it also does not follow from this coexistence of good and evil that the two systems, theirs and ours, will necessarily be able to exist concurrently. That will depend largely on them."

Then Mr. Acheson dealt with seven separate points of controversy which, he thinks, must be reconciled if the two systems are to live together.

First, there must be peace treaties with the defeated nations of the last war which will not turn them into satellites of the victors.

Second, the Soviet leaders should withdraw the military and police forces which are used, directly and indirectly, to keep in power "persons or regimes which do not command the confidence of the respective peoples, freely expressed through orderly representative processes."

Nothing would so alter the international climate as the holding of elections in the so-

Third, the Soviet leaders should drop their policy of obstruction in the United Nations as shown by Soviet walkouts and boycotts—and "instead act as if they believe the United Nations is, as Stalin himself has recently called it, a serious instrumentality for the maintenance of international peace and security."

Fourth, the Soviet leaders could join the U. S. to find an effective way to control the atomic weapons and also to limit armaments in general.

Fifth, "The Kremlin could refrain from using the Communist apparatus controlled by it throughout the world to attempt to overthrow, by subversive means, established governments with which the Soviet Government stands in an outward state of friendship and respect."

Sixth, the Soviet leaders could cooperate in properly treating diplomatic representatives of present policies, he said. "When we now find our representatives treated as criminals, when we see great official propaganda machines retreating that they are sinister people and that contact with them is pregnant with danger—we cannot believe that such insinuations are advanced in good faith, and we cannot be blind to the obvious implications of such an attitude."

Seventh, the Soviet leaders could refrain from deliberately distorting to their own people the picture of the outside world. Here Mr. Acheson referred principally to official Soviet propaganda policy which holds and repeats ad in-

CAPTAIN CHURCHILL HEADS S. A. LOCAL SERVICE UNITS

Captain Eldred Churchill, recently of Pittsburgh, Pa., received charge of Salvation Army Local Service Units in northern and southern New England Tuesday night, at an official welcome service in the Army's Cambridge Citadel.

Colonel Wm. H. Fox, Provincial Commander, presided.

Captain Churchill's first New England appointment follows service as Public Relations Secretary in western Pennsylvania. He is accompanied by his wife, formerly Ellen Crawford Lyons of Manchester, Conn., who before her marriage held positions for the organization at Milford and Taunton, Mass.

Service Units are a unique Salvation Army development under which part of the local annual service is retained in a local service fund to serve needs in the field of social service. Originated in Vermont 22 years ago by Ensign W. A. Nicol, Provincial Public Relations Secretary, New England alone has at least 415 units, the plan being adopted in Salvation Army administrative areas the country over.

Service Units in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, and Connecticut come under Captain Churchill, Massachusetts and Rhode Island Units are under direction of Ensign Nicol, who is also executive director of the Greater Boston Annual Appeal, a position he has held for over 25 consecutive years. Both departments are responsible to Colonel Fox as Salvation Army chief executive for the six New England States.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Toothaker returned home Sunday. Mr. Toothaker has been attending warden's school for three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Kimball Ames and Nancy and Catherine Carver returned home Sunday evening from a Southern vacation trip.

STAR CAST PROMISED IN SENIOR PLAY NEXT WEEK

The Gould Academy Senior Play, "Skidding," is nearing production readiness under Mr. Thompson's direction for Friday, April 21, presentation.

This three-act comedy is well within the capabilities of the Gould senior thespians, telling the story of two married sisters' lives which seem to be "skidding" from under them, furnishing a bad example for the younger sister's future marital plans. Dirty political plotting, attempting to put the "akids" under the upright Judge Hardy, father of the family, and a wife who gets fed up with the Judge after 30 years of married life and who packs up and leaves, all add comedy fuel to the Hardy family's troubles. Of course, like all good farces, everything is solved in the last five minutes and the curtain comes down on an ebullient Andy, the kid brother, selling a lot to his prospective brother-in-law and sister.

In the juvenile leads are Bob Hamilton and Jo Terriberry. Old Grump, lovable and forgetful and a bit "deaf," has Fritz Norton "rolling them in the aisles" at rehearsal. Judge Hardy and Mrs. will be portrayed by Dick Marshall and a very peppy Helen Keelwetter.

Aunt Milly, who finally revolts against her spinsterhood, gets more than adequate treatment at the hands of Laura Belle Bennett. The two dissatisfied married sisters, around whom the plot revolves, find Liddell Maxim and Marilyn Judkins weeping and sniffling in professional style. Andy Hardy gets full Mickey Rooney treatment from bouncing Dick Klein, and the cast is rounded out by Dave Kneeland giving an accurate picture of a big-city political boss.

Tickets are on sale at the school office, both reserve and balcony. An excellent attendance is expected, as this is the only dramatic production to be presented to the Bethel public this spring.

CARPENTER OR COOK?

Norman Thomas had dedicated his life to the cause of Socialism which, according to the dictionary, is "A political and economic theory of social organization based on collective or governmental ownership of the essential means for the production and distribution of goods." For many years Mr. Thomas has been the Socialist Party candidate in presidential elections, but has never received more than a handful of votes. The people do not approve of Socialism when it is presented in a forthright manner. And yet in the last decade and a half a large part of the Socialist Party platform has been adopted. High political office holders who profess opposition to the philosophy of Socialism advocate and adopt measures which lead ultimately to all powerful centralistic government. It is time that candidates and officeholders at every level of government be pinned down on a definition of Socialism. As one observer points out: "If a bank clerk develops the habit of falsifying his records and stealing money from the bank at which he is employed, then long will his title remain bank clerk, only when will it change from bank clerk to thief? For if a man steals himself a corporate and constantly works of the banking trade, should the man be called a carpenter or a cook?"

Similarly, if a man claims to be a Democrat or Republican, but carries on a socialistic program to destroy private business and the profit incentive system—a program that promises the so-called common man everything, one that employs bankruptcy spending, confiscatory taxation and heavier regulations on business, one that takes more control of private property away from the owner, one that makes business costs higher, one that is gradually socializing basic industries and professions, is making more of us wards of the government and is creating regional authorities—should not a man who advocates and works for such a program be called, not a Democrat nor a Republican, but a Socialist?

PROTECT YOUR FAMILY

Recently a home burned in western Oregon claiming the lives of the parents and five children. The stage for the tragedy could not have been more perfectly prepared if mass suicide had been contemplated.

Here is how the tragedy occurred. The house was built long and narrow with a built-on room in the rear where the children slept. The back door and windows were nailed shut. The night of the tragedy a roaring fire was built in the wood stove that sat by the front door. After the fire was stoked all went to bed. It was not long before the hot stove heated the floor boards where oil had been allowed to seep into the wood-oil-soaked floors are common. As soon as the stove became red hot the oil floor ignited enveloping the whole end of the house in flame and also the only exit. The rest of the story is very short—all lives were lost.

This can happen to any home where there is a disregard for fire precautions. Inadequate insulation around a heating unit, oil drippings on floor, poor draft, cracked stove, over-heating, forced draft and open

— Mrs. Ralph Kimball, Corres. —

Glora Childs has entered the Boston Floating Hospital for observation. Her aunt, Mrs. Dorothy Tatroau took her to Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Morrill, Mr. and Mrs. George Gilbert, Alta Morrill and little daughter, and Bruce Smith were Easter Sunday guests at Stanley Lapham's.

Mr. and Mrs. Earlon Keniston and Lona spent Easter Sunday, with guests from Portland, at Mr. and Mrs. Lute Andrews.

— Stanley Coolidge, Corres. —

Mrs. Charles Keenan visited last Saturday with relatives in Berlin, N. H.

Mrs. Floyd Coolidge and Mrs. Vinile May were in Portland one day last week on business.

Barbara Keenan will come home Friday of this week for a week's vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keenan.

A few people have their trees tapped and are getting a good run this week.

Stanley Coolidge attended Bear River Grange at Newry Corner, last Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Keenan and son, Shawn, of Berlin, N. H., were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keenan. Richard Blackburn was also a guest at the Keenan residence.

It is quite noticeable that some of the citizens of Bethel are trying their best to decorate the side of the road with their garbage. In some places it looks like the whole town is using the side of the road for a dump.

Barbara Angvine and Mrs. Walter Errington have been confined to their homes with colds.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Coolidge were in Rumford with Mr. and Mrs. Elton Coolidge, Tuesday night.

Three out of four traffic accidents happen in clear weather on dry roads.
